WORK EXPERIENCE

02/2007 – Till now

Freelance web developer

As a freelancer, I have experience in the whole process of creating a product, from finding customers and marketing, through the project management, business meetings and coordination of other developers, to the delivery and after-sale customer care. I use my technical skills practically every day and due to my wide experience, I am able to make quick and effective judgements about a project plan.

My web development portfolio can be found on <http://webdesignerFreelancer.com>

11/2008 – Till now

Flash / Web developer

Hurst MailAgent (London / Hemel Hempstead)

I am currently contracted for a small amount of hours of Flash and HTML development. My duties cover HTML emails and landing pages creation and optimisation, JavaScript coding and Flash applications development (including an on-line survey builder and video player/ recorder).

I work within a small team of designers and developers and our usual communication is via chat, e-mail and webinars.

02/2007 – 06/2008

Flash / Web developer

New Generation Websites (St. Albans)

Being an independent contractor, my responsibilities cover working with Flash templates and changing them into what exactly a customer wants. I also program or alter PHP pages, JavaScript and material provided by a customer. Some projects are coordinated by Tony Brooks, owner of New Generation Websites and in some I am dealing with a client on my own

QUALIFICATION

09/2006 – 06/2009

BSc. Computer Games Development with Honours - First Class

University of Bedfordshire

My assignments were mostly practical and required demonstration of technical skills, teamwork, self-management, time-management and ability to do research. My latest assignments included 2D / 3D games creation using OpenGL and Direct X, production of research papers and various team projects. My Bachelor Thesis project involved research into artificial intelligence and creation of a strategy/life simulation game called Alien Farm which was successful among players and academic contacts..

09/1998 – 05/2006

Equivalent to grammar school A-levels

Gymnazium Antona Pridavka

I worked in several projects, including developing two versions of the school's web site, designing a school magazine and leaflets and taking care of printing.

INTERESTS

Drawing, PC games, Artificial Intelligence, guitar, music, cooking
